CREDENZA
Christopher
Kennedy
Starting at $12,375

"What I love about Christopher Kennedy's Franklin credenza is the seamless integration of architectural detailing with ease of form. Through each fine detail—the beauty of the wood, the way the piece seems to float on the base—I can truly feel the love and dedication that went into creating such an extraordinary piece."

GUSTAVIE SIDEBOARD
Objets, Ltd., $1,710

"This beautifully weathered Gustavian-style sideboard is the perfect balance to a room full of rich antiques. Its simple, neutral design gives it versatility. I envision using this in a dining room surrounded by other inherited pieces—classic blue and white or other colorful china and silver."

"What I love about this sideboard is that it is fully customizable with numerous options for different nail-head patterns over fabric or leather, mirrored fronts, door hardware finishes, custom paint colors and multiple finishes. Plus, it makes a dynamic statement in any dining room."

The BUZZ

HILL COUNTRY LIVING

For nearly two centuries, German settlers built rugged limestone buildings near Fredericksburg for attending Sunday services in town. This tradition continues today with a collection of shared interest residences at Boot Ranch. Donna Figg Design is referencing the local heritage and hill country for the new Sunday House interiors.
